Your Virtue,

On behalf of the Archdiocese of Esztergom-Budapest, I extend our deepest appreciation for your leadership in organizing the Global Summit of Religious Leaders on the margins of COP29 in Baku this November. Under your guidance, the Summit has served as a significant platform for dialogue and collaboration, uniting faith communities from around the world to address the urgent environmental challenges facing humanity.

Our representative, Reverend Professor Dr. Mihály Kránitz, was honored to attend the event, and his report highlighted the impact of the Summit's discussions and objectives. The Summit's focus on interfaith dialogue as a means of promoting environmental responsibility reflects a shared commitment to the stewardship of our planet. We are grateful for the opportunity extended to Rev. Prof. Kránitz to join such an important gathering, and we commend the careful efforts of the organizers to facilitate this critical inter-religious engagement.

The initiative of Azerbaijan, exemplified by the Summit reflects your nation's inspiring dedication to interfaith unity and environmental advocacy. We pray for continued success in these endeavors and express our profound gratitude for Azerbaijan's unwavering commitment to fostering global peace and of course environmental sustainability as well.

May the Almighty bless your work, and may the spirit of cooperation and unity achieved in Baku serve as a lasting model for our shared future.

Respectfully,
