Congratulatory Message from His Eminence Dr. Dambajav Khamba Lama

First of all, on behalf of Mongolian Buddhists I would like to offer my congratulations to Mr. Ilham Aliyev the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan for taking an effective initiative to implement the environmental protection and making a significant contribution to improve the quality of the environment. Moreover, I would like to express my appreciation His Virtue Sheikh-ul-Islam Allahshukur Pashazadeh chairman of the organizing committee of the Baku Global Summit of religious leaders on the margins of COP29 and chairman of the Caucasus Muslims Board for gathering religious leaders to discuss about ecological and environmental issues based on their religion, beliefs, and culture. I wish great success and prosperity for the future of their magnificent leadership and initiatives to change understanding of the intrinsic value of all humankind.

It is a decent opportunity of which influential representatives and religious leaders from many countries are able to meet and exchanging their opinion which is beneficial to ecology, environment, and climate change. These issues are of universal concern and necessity. The goal of this conference is to develop and strengthen a vision of environmental protection for all humanity through religious approaches. I feel that this is of vital importance, and is a mission I hold very dear to my heart. The engagement and discussion of all participants will contribute to the betterment of the world, solving ecological, environmental, and climate change issues.

Finally, I absolutely believe that we, the participants of this conference, can act as an example for the world. It is our character, our commitment to lead and inspire our believers for contributing to the development of environmental protection.

May peace spread universally and eternally to benefit all sentient beings.
